AMERICAN ARMORED AND INFANTRY FORCES BREAK THROUGH SIEGFRIED LINE; ARE RACING TO COLOGNE, 29 MILES AWAY, AS ALLIES CLOSE IN ON GERMANY

First Army Smashes Second Belt of The Much-Vaunted Line

ONE OF LAST DEFENSES

Other Allied Columns Surround City of Aachen

By International News Service
In the Siegfried Line, Germany, Sept. 16—Several thousand German soldiers inside a broad wedge driven ten miles through the Westwall by American forces about Trier today are reaping a grim "Hitler harvest" as Allied armies moved in for the Nazi kill.

Smoking villages, dead livestock and foreign military occupation have become the sudden lot of frontier inhabitants.

There is misery and devastation identical to that visited upon millions by Hitler in other lands of Europe.

In time to come, millions of Herenkov will be equally as badly off. Our guns, tanks and infantry are on a non-stop shooting, slashing and punching spree in a grand bid to smash Hitler and force a German capitulation. There are no punches pulled. "It is a case of kill and destroy."

This is Hitler's Reich, cradle of all the misery of the current war and of the Gestapo which terrorized Europe. Now it is knowing war to the hilt and wherever a single shot is fired against us, as inside this gutted village, we turn loose every available gun.

Any place in Germany where a sniper's shot whistles our troops go in and let incendiary grenades fly. We are rightly applying the torch to whole villages to scorch the German earth when necessary to finish the war as quickly as it can be ended.

American armored and infantry forces have broken through the Siegfried line and are racing toward Cologne on the Rhine only 29 miles away as consolidated Allied forces closed in on Germany on a flaming 500-mile front from Switzerland to the English Channel.

Richard Tregaskis, International News Service correspondent with Lieut. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' First Army sent a dispatch from the front lines saying that the Yanks, driving more than 12 miles into the Reich, had broken through the second belt of the Siegfried line. He added, significantly, that no further line of defenses in the vaunted West Wall were known to exist in that region.

Meanwhile other Yank columns who have surrounded the German city of Aachen from the west, north and south, by-passed that important city and engulfed at least a

U. S. MARINES HEW 2-MILE BEACHHEAD AT PELELIU

Aboard U. S. Flagship Off Palau—Veteran U. S. Marines hewed a two-mile beachhead along the shore of Peleliu in the Palau islands today (Friday) in a vicious battle with a strong Jap garrison for this springboard to the Philippines. The Marines were forced to fight for every inch of ground despite the most violent pre-invasion bombardment perhaps ever seen. The Marines repulsed two tank-led enemy counterattacks and an infantry charge before fighting slackened at nightfall. American casualties were described as surprisingly light. By mid-afternoon the Yanks had flanked the airport on two sides and driven straight across the island below the field to cut off part of the Jap garrison on the southern tip.

It is quite possible that the Japs may launch a counter-invasion as they have an estimated 30,000 other troops in the remaining islands of the Palau group. Massed American surface and air fleets, however, are expected to be able and eager to cope with any such drive when it comes.

REPORT VON RUNSTEDT BACK IN COMMAND

U. S. Third Army Headquarters—Field Marshal Karl Rudolf Gerd Von Rundstedt, dean of German marshals who had been under suspicion in connection with the recent attempt to assassinate Hitler, today was reported back in supreme command of the Wehrmacht in the west. The report indicated that Hitler, in a desperate effort to solidify the defense of the German Army, has "forgotten" the rumored implication of Von Rundstedt in the plot and the ill feelings aroused by the ensuing purge. A stiffening German resistance along the Moselle sector became noticeable yesterday. The Nazis near Pont a Mousson launched one of their hardest counterattacks. They were beaten back, although they recaptured one small village in their drive.

For the first time since the battle of the Moselle began, the Germans also uncorked massed artillery in the Metz area. Fleeing Nancy the Nazis ran into an ambush laid by Lieut. Gen. Patton's men some miles to the east. Five hundred of the enemy were killed and 900 taken prisoner. East of the Moselle and in the "junction territory" between the 3rd and 7th Armies, both units are mopping up.

MacARTHUR POURS MEN ON MOROTAI ISLAND

With the Americans at Morotai—Gen. Douglas MacArthur poured men and equipment ashore on Morotai Island today (Friday) in a sudden invasion thrust which shattered the enemy's Halmahera-Philippine defense chain and opened the way for a direct offensive to avenge Bataan.

Reception Tendered To New Pastor at Yardley

YARDLEY, Sept. 16—A reception honoring the Rev. and Mrs. Robert H. Walker and daughter Joyce, was held in the Church School rooms of the Yardley Methodist Church last night.

The Rev. Mr. Walker who was formerly a pastor at Eddystone, Pa., is filling the vacancy brought about by the transfer of the Rev. F. Lewis Walley from Yardley to Bustleton.

RAINS ARRIVE TOO LATE TO AID CROPS

Wells and Streams Will Have Supplies Greatly Replenished However

CORN YIELD LOW

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 16—The heavy rains of Tuesday, Wednesday and yesterday arrived too late to be of any help to Bucks County crops, states William H. Wilson, assistant county farm agent.

If the rains had arrived four to six weeks earlier there would have been better crop production, it is said.

The water supplies in creeks and wells will be greatly replenished, however, it is said.

Because of the drought, which extended over a period of many weeks, according to Mr. Wilson, the

Bucks County Firm To Get Third White Star

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 16—For the fourth time—a record that is outstanding in the industry in the United States—the War Department has honored the employees of William F. Fretz & Son, operating plants here and at Pipersville and Bedminster, for outstanding achievement in producing materials for the Armed Forces.

This means that a third White Star will be added to their Army-Navy Production Award Flag. The company manufactures clothing in peace times, and since the war started, has been engaged in the manufacture of uniforms for the Army and Navy.

The 60-year-old firm continues operations on War Department contracts through both the U. S. Army and the U. S. Navy, with a record most outstanding in every respect, with all production of equipment for the Armed Forces being delivered according to schedule or anticipated.

In acknowledgement of this latest commendation received by the Bucks county firm, William F. Fretz, senior partner, expressed the feeling of the Fretz organization in a communication to Under Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson, Washington, D. C.

In the communication Mr. Fretz pledged for each and every man and woman in the Fretz organization, "continued determination to equal or surpass previous achievements in the production of materials for the Armed Forces." The Fretz firm, in addition to the usual tribute from Under Secretary of War Patterson, received a special letter from Colonel Thomas T. Jones, head procurement officer for the Philadelphia Quartermaster, congratulating the Fretz organization upon the excellent production record.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

(Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

The Hillman Program

Washington, Sept. 14. WITH great indignation, Chairman Hannegan of the Democratic National Committee denies that at Chicago, where Mr. Roosevelt stopped on his "non-political" tour of inspection last June, the President told him to "clear everything through Sidney," meaning Mr. Hillman, chairman of the CIO Political Action Committee.

MR. HANNEGAN may be telling the truth about this, though there are many who regard his denial as one of sheer political expediency. Representative Clare Luce, of Connecticut, showed how much she believed it on Tuesday when, having gained unanimous consent for a ten-second speech, she made the whole House laugh by shouting, "Mr. Speaker, clear everything through Sidney." Certainly, failure of Mr. Hannegan to enter a denial would have gone a long way toward establishing the contention that Mr. Hillman is the real manager of the fourth-term campaign; that his relations with Mr. Roosevelt are closer than anyone else's; that the Democratic committee chairman, Mr. Hannegan, is playing a secondary role in this campaign—all of which would be highly embarrassing to the fourth-term managers from Mr. Roosevelt down. The fact is that this "clear everything" phrase is far more than a wisecrack. It is an exceedingly effective way of calling attention to a really menacing situation.

ASIDE from the painful position in which it would leave his Presidential candidate, Mr. Hannegan, on his own account, hardly could be expected to let so plausible and revealing a story stand unchallenged and uncontradicted. But, whether it is true or not that Mr. Roosevelt directly instructed Mr. Hannegan to "clear everything through Sidney," it certainly is true that a good many things are being cleared "through Sidney." At the convention, for example, Senator Truman's candidacy for the second

LETTERS TO AN AMERICAN FAMILY

No. X

(Doylestown Intelligencer, September 16th)

Dear John and Mary Citizen:—

Communism and Fascism both seek the overthrow of democratic institutions and the establishment of dictatorships.

Fascism is a military government dominated by a partnership of army and labor leaders. The simplest protection against it is through the American principle of elected civil authorities—Congress and the President—being kept superior to the military.

Communism is an economic revolution, the way for which is paved by the successive weakening of all public control over government—legislative, judiciary, and freedom of elections.

There is little protection against Communism except for the executive power of the nation to be dedicated to strengthening, not weakening, Constitutional government.

Perhaps you do not fully understand what I mean when I speak of economic revolution.

I mean something similar to the inflation and the financial collapse which Germany went through, and which substituted State-Socialism under Hitler for the relatively free government the German people had previously enjoyed.

The goal can be reached by several routes: the increase of national debt beyond the ability to repay, the increase of taxes to the point where ownership of property becomes not a privilege but a burden, seizure by the government of private and industrial facilities, expansion of currency, or outright national bankruptcy.

Despite the fact that President Roosevelt was elected on a pledge to reduce Federal expenditures 25 per cent, he plunged into borrowing from the start, and will finish his third term having spent several times more money, the bulk of it borrowed, than all preceding American presidents together.

His policy of spending in the present generation moneys obtained by borrowing against future generations cannot be attributed to the war.

It began before the war. Long before hostilities, long before even the Rearmament program, he had raised the national debt to a staggering total, much the largest in our history, and of a size gravely disturbing to believers in sound finances. Moreover, he had announced no plan for reduction or repayment.

A great deal of the present national debt is in the form of War Bonds. I know the plans you two are making for the use of this money after the war, and throughout America millions of other families are making similar plans.

But, except under the preposterous scheme of still more borrowings, these evidences which you hold of the national debt can be repaid only out of future earnings of the American people.

Any expedient of juggling national funds to escape

BUCKS S. S. ASSN. NAMES OFFICERS

Linford D. Gross Re-Elected President of County Association

DELEGATES NAMED

FOREST GROVE, Sept. 16—Thirty-eight schools of all of the seven districts of the Bucks County Sabbath School Association were represented Saturday at the 78th annual convention of the county association in the Forestville Presbyterian Church, here.

The theme of the convention, which was in charge of the president, Linford D. Gross, Blooming Glen, was "The Sunday school in the light of Christ's message of salvation," and during the three sessions three informal addresses were given.

About 65 persons attended the afternoon session, and in the evening the attendance was increased to 200, and at that time a short talk on the subject, "Music in the Sunday School," was given by the Rev. I. L. Clark, Bristol. Sixty persons were served supper. Special music was also rendered during the supper hour.

The afternoon session was devoted largely to the transaction of business, which included the election of officers. The association decided to continue its program of advertising in the newspapers and to expand it to the upper and lower ends of the county. It decided also to make an appropriation of $300 to the State Sabbath School Association.

Officers were elected as follows: President, Linford D. Gross, Blooming Glen; vice-presidents, R. Randolph Pursel, Mechanicsville, and Rev. Edgar T. Chandler, New Britain; corresponding secretary, Mrs. William W. Cope, Quakertown; recording secretary, Walter N. Grass, Edison; treasurer, Clarence L. Detweiler, Hathor, R. D.; departmental superintendents, children, Mrs. Anna Spencer, Doylestown R. D. 1; young people, Rev. I. L. Clark, Bristol; adult, Mrs. H. J. Berger, Doylestown.

DEFENDANT GETS ANOTHER CHANCE TO MAKE GOOD

Frank Kentopp, of Doylestown, Enters A Plea of Guilty

IS PUT ON PROBATION

Other Cases Are Heard At Session of The Court

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 16—All cases at the session of miscellaneous court were disposed of this week which were listed for that court. Jury trials for the September term of criminal court will begin Monday.

Frank Kentopp, of Doylestown, pleaded guilty to a charge of being a nuisance.

The Court in pronouncing sentence told the defendant he would take him at his word this time and give him one more chance on the promise that he will "stop drinking" intoxicating liquor.

Judge Boyer suspended sentence and placed Kentopp on probation for one year, in charge of Probation Officer Horace E. Gwinner.

The defendant, Officer Clifford Beck, of Doylestown, testified, has been arrested by him alone seventeen times. He has been arrested many more times than that, records show.

Kentopp's employer, Joseph Barnes, of Warrington, informed the Court that Kentopp was an excellent worker when sober. He was described as a mechanic who could not be replaced at this time.

Judge Boyer issued a warning not only to Kentopp whom he told would be brought into court to serve a year the first time he was found drinking but to hotel and taproom owners too.

The Court authorized the police to notify every licensee in Doylestown, Warrington and Willow Grove, that if they are caught selling intoxicating liquor—and that includes beer—to Kentopp, that they will be brought into Court

Tells of Capturing Pandas In The Wilds of China

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 16—"Wild Animals I Have Known" was the subject upon which John Tevan, executive secretary of the New York Zoological Society, spoke to members of the Doylestown Nature Club at "Aldie," the home of Mrs. William R. Mercer here.

Introduced by his sister-in-law, Mrs. Frank Damrosch, Mr. Tevan gave an account of his trip to China to bring two large pandas to this country.

Mr. Tevan told of the trip, which was taken during the summer and fall of 1941 to western China, the home of the pandas.

Motion pictures of the long journey home were shown. The party was besieged by crowds of interested people at Chungking, from which place a flight was made to Hongkong, and from there to Manila, where Mr. Tevan and his party were confronted with the difficulties of the tropical climate and procuring the proper variety of bamboo, the main diet of the pandas.

Finally the party sailed from Manila on Nov. 25, 1941, for the long journey across the Pacific. Upon arrival on the West Coast the pandas were placed in a private baggage car and taken to New York.

WHAT OUR BOYS ARE DOING TO WIN THE WAR

AN AIR SERVICE COMMAND STATION IN ENGLAND

Sept. 16—Cpl. Claude Camille, the son of Alex. Camille, of 1908 Wood street, Bristol, Pa., recently completed an orientation course designed to bridge the gap between training in the States and combat soldiering against the enemy in France.

At this Air Service Command Station Cpl. Claude Camille attended a series of lectures given by battle-wise veterans which included instructions on chemical warfare defense and pertinent tips on staying healthy in a combat theatre.

His next station will be one from which America's fighting planes cover our liberation of Occupied Europe.

Before entering the Army Air Forces, he was employed as a riveter and assembly man by the Division of Kaiser Cargo Co., Bristol, Pa.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 16, 1944
GERMANS CANNOT TAKE IT

In these times of freely circulating money, it is interesting to read that savings by individuals between the end of 1939 and June 1, 1944, amounted to $100,000,000,000, one-half of which was accumulated during the last 18 months, according to Commerce Department estimates. Savings during the first half of 1944 were at an annual rate of $35,000,000,000, which if continued would bring the nation's total thrift account to considerably more than $115,000,000,000 by the end of 1944.

This shows that savings definitely are on the increase and reflects the extent to which the popular thrift impulse has been able to survive the ever-increasing cost of living. Apparently, most people are making more money nowadays than they ever did in their lives. There do not appear to be any appreciable indications that they have slowed up their spending, with the demand for consumer goods continuing far in excess of the supply.

The increased savings trend may be due to the fact that more and more persons are looking ahead to the post-war reconstruction period with its many opportunities for investment not only in standard home equipment items but in business opportunities. Thus many may be planning to go into business for themselves.

Whatever the uncertainty of the times ahead, the certainty that there will be plenty of places for the use of money is self-evident. If the nation has a total thrift account of $115,000,000,000 by the end of 1944, it will be that much to the good in the matter of economic security.

BILLIONS IN SAVINGS

That the end of the European war is now only a matter of a few weeks seems fairly certain. Catastrophe after catastrophe has hit the Germans on all fronts and now there are reports of spreading riots inside the Reich. The Germans cannot take it.

They were riding high when their goose-stepping armies marched into Poland and Czechoslovakia. They were arrogant and blandly calm when their armies were murdering British children at Coventry. But when the Allied air raids hit their peak, there was only grim silence. Now, Allied troops have pushed their way onto German soil.

And what happens? Stockholm reports that riots have broken out in "several" German cities, and that crowds of women, soldiers and workers marched through streets shouting "Down with Hitler! We want peace."

A Swedish paper reveals that clashes have occurred between members of the private Hitlerite army, the SS troops, and German civilians, the SS units firing into crowds and "killing or wounding many."

Another Stockholm paper reports that the German garrison of Döberitz near Berlin "mutinied" during the exhibition of a film showing the execution of Field Marshal Erwin von Witzleben in the purge following the July 20 German army plot and that "shooting occurred among the anti-Nazi officers."

Subsequently falling into ruins, "Pennsbury" remained little more than a name until the State of Pennsylvania acquired the property and in 1938, after years of careful research, reconstructed the manor as a memorial to the proprietor and founder of the Commonwealth.

As was the case with the buried cities of Jamestown in Virginia and St. Mary's in Maryland, the earth was forced literally to give up its secrets so that the "Lost Capital" of Pennsylvania might rise from the dust.

Soroptimists Donate Sums To Scouts and Hospital

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 16.—At the first meeting after the Summer vacation period, the Soroptimist Club of Bucks county voted contributions of $5 to the Boy Scouts and $20 to the Emergency Hospital, here. Twenty members, almost the total membership of the club, were present at the meeting at the Cross Keys Inn this week.

Twenty-five of the envelopes addressed to men and women in the armed services from this area and issued by the servicemen's committee of the Doylestown Community Council will be taken by the club. The envelopes are addressed and stamped and the holder is expected to write a letter or put some news or magazine clipping in them and mail them.

Mrs. Pearl H. Smith was elected the delegate and Miss Katherine Keane the alternate, to represent the club for the next two years at the conferences of the North Atlantic region of Soroptimist clubs.

The Soroptimist club of Tiffin, Ohio, is having an autumn "convention" in the form of a handkerchief bazaar with the delegates from each club in the country to be represented by handkerchiefs. Mrs. Martha S. Woolley was appointed to take charge of sending the "delegates" from the club.

and steps taken to revoke their license.

Pontopp, who was honorably discharged from the U. S. Army, had an excellent service record.

The defendant assured Judge Boyer that he could "straighten himself out," and stop drinking.

Richard Julian James, Jr., of Tipton road, Ottsville, pleaded guilty to a charge of operating a motor vehicle after his operating privilege had been suspended and revoked. He was fined $10 and costs, and a prison sentence of 30 days, dated from August 31, was imposed.

George Stacy, of Lacey Park, Rollins F. Hetzel and Edward Lee, both of Warmminster, pleaded guilty to the larceny of an automobile owned by Robert Abrams, an extra bartender at a Johnsville taproom that has since been closed by the State Liquor Control Board. The theft was on August 26.

The stolen car was wrecked and damaged to the extent of $236.92. The defendants had spent six hours in the Johnsville tap room, commonly known as "The Blood Pit."

Stacey, a married man with three children, told Judge Boyer that he spent "about $300 a year on drinking."

None of the defendants have ever been in trouble before.

Judge Boyer sentenced Stacy, 24, to pay one-third of the costs and costs 6 to 23 months in the Bucks County Prison. Hetzel, 20, was sentenced to pay one-third of the costs and serve 3 to 23 months in the Bucks County Prison. Lee, 19, was sentenced to pay one-third of the costs and to serve 11 to 23 months in the County Prison.

These sentences are to begin from the date of commitment, August 29.

Judge Boyer advised the defendants that if the damages to the wrecked car are settled he would consider a parole for Hetzel at the end of one month, for Stacy at the end of two months, and for Lee at the end of five months.

this fact merely puts the American financial program on a par with the Ponzi scheme, that of paying one man's interest out of the next man's investment.

The American public has much more staked on the War Bonds than you may realize. I happen to know that you have a mortgage on your home. The bank which holds that mortgage has the bulk of its assets in War Bonds—should something happen to freeze those War Bonds, the bank might have little choice but to foreclose.

The same is true of virtually all other forms of credit and investment which you may be using.

You have, for example, bank accounts and insurance. The assets and resources which should make your money available to you when you want it again are largely in War Bonds.

This is no criticism of War Bonds as an investment. They are undoubtedly the best place available to put your money. But the New Deal has put all our financial eggs in one basket—it is up to the American people to watch that basket!

Perhaps these considerations will make clearer to you just what is implied by the term, economic revolution, and the extent to which the American people would suffer if the Communists, in power through a Fourth Term, decide to emulate Hitler in Germany—"liquidate" private property.

No Americans, and especially that great number of them who own homes, farms, property and investments, can afford to blind themselves to such a possibility.

They have within their power to make such a development impossible—by the ousting of the New Deal and the election of Governor Dewey.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

place nomination undoubtedly was "cleared through Sidney." So, also was the candidacy of ex-Justice James F. Byrnes. Mr. Hillman approved the first but turned down the second. And now Mr. Hillman's activities, plans and publicity are all upon a considerably larger scale than those of Mr. Hannegan's committee. Also there is more energy and enthusiasm about the Hillman committee's campaign than about that of the Hannegan committee.

TO SUCH an extent is this so that it is reasonable to say that if every thing important about the fourth-term fight is not "cleared through Sidney" it should be and that if Mr. Hannegan is not working in the closest possible touch with Mr. Hillman he is making quite a mistake. For, it is Mr. Hillman who is making the fight. There is no mistake about that. If any evidence of this is needed, it can be gained from the September 8 "news releases" of the Hillman committee sent out from its national headquarters and marked "For Labor Press Exclusively." These "news releases" of this date are very voluminous and, though they are primarily designed to stimulate the labor press to help in the great drive for a dollar contribution from every "CIO member and friend," they cover the whole field and are by no means confined to labor questions.

FOR EXAMPLE, this interesting statement is made in the first release: "The CIO Political Action Committee plans to print and distribute not less than 50,000,000 pieces of literature dealing with the issues of the national political campaign. Each piece is designed as a weapon in the hands of American workers and their friends."

Besides the 50,000,000 pieces of literature, CIO-PAC intends to buy radio time, newspaper space in big towns and small, rent billboards, distribute posters, use sound trucks and the whole paraphernalia of a modern political campaign. The stakes are the largest in American labor history and labor intends to do its best to win its fight."

THE NATIONAL Committee's campaign is upon no such scale as that. For one thing, 50,000,000 pieces of literature is an unheard-of campaign quantity. It will take a very large sum indeed to print, mail and distribute. The other activities outlined in the "news releases" are likewise expensive. Nothing is said here of the cost of the registration drive which the CIO-PAC is making, but no one can consider the program as thus outlined, without appreciating that it will take more money to carry out than the Democratic committee will be able to collect, or than Mr. Hillman concedes he will have. That Mr. Hillman knows the program will require an immense amount is evidenced by the kind of appeal the labor press is directed in these "news releases" to make.

IT IS TOLD, for instance, to point out to the "worker" that his dollars are to match those of the du Ponts, the Sloans and the Rockefellers. No mention, of course, is made of the Biddles, the Morgenthaus, the Davies, the Harrimans and other rich and liberal contributors to the Roosevelt campaign funds. One would think that these were all poor boys who never had been asked to "come through." The labor press is also directed to dwell upon the idea that the fruits of a Dewey victory will be unemployment, slums and apple stands. The suggestion is made that by stressing this idea the dollars "will be donated quickly." There are, of course, a good many other instructions to the labor press in these exclusive releases, but enough has been given to show the scope, the energy and the cost of the CIO-PAC campaign.

IT EXCEEDS that of the National Committee on all accounts. Its program overshadows that of the National Committee and its own account of its activities justifies the statement that Mr. Hillman has really taken over the fourth-term fight and made it his own. Under the circumstances, if things are not being cleared through him, then Mr. Hillman is not getting what he is entitled to. And his record shows that he has been pretty successful in getting, at least, that.

Rains Arrive Too Late To Aid Crops

yield of corn this season will be about 50 percent normal. Many acres of corn stopped growing during the latter part of last month, and a large number of the farmers cut the corn six or eight weeks earlier than usual and placed it in silos.

Apples and peaches also suffered as a result of the drought. Orchardists throughout the country found the apples and peaches greatly reduced in size, and farmers engaged in growing tomatoes on an extensive scale found their yield greatly reduced.

Truckers in the lower part of the county also found the snap bean yield greatly reduced as a result of the drought.

However, said Mr. Wilson, the rain will be of some benefit because it will enable the farmers to prepare the soil for the sowing of wheat and barley later in the season. Prior to the rain this week the soil was so dry that farmers were also unable to plow.

Young and Ralph Roberts.

The officers were installed at the evening session by Raymond Hedrick, Telford, a former president of the association.

Linford D. Gross and Walter N. Grass were appointed to represent the county association at the 82nd annual convention of the State Sabbath School Association in Reading on October 10, 11, 12 and 13.

One of the speakers was Rev. James Stanton Bair, superintendent of the young people's department of the State Sabbath School Association, who, speaking of the convention theme, said: "We get out of the Sunday school what we put into it. The teacher must elevate himself to a high position, and it should be his duty to save the lost, those who have never found Christ and those who have neglected their religious training."

At the close of his address he conducted a brief forum.

Rev. Guy Everly, Morrisville, who had charge of devotions at the opening of the evening session, also gave a short talk. He commented upon the need of the individual in knowing where he is going and how he is going to get there. Salvation, he said, is sure knowledge for those who profess their faith and confess their sins.

The main address of the evening was by Donald V. Hock, an attorney from Allentown, who spoke of the young people in the Sunday school. "Maturity," said Mr. Hock, "brings a closer kinship to God. We must, not like Rip Van Winkle, sleep away the best years of our life and permit our children to miss the foundations of democracy by reaching the individual through the Sunday school. The individual in turn must reach other individuals."

AMERICAN ARMORED AND INFANTRY FORCES BREAK THROUGH SIEGFRIED LINE; ARE RACING TO COLOGNE, 29 MILES AWAY, AS ALLIES CLOSE IN ON GERMANY

First Army Smashes Second Belt of The Much-Vaunted Line

ONE OF LAST DEFENSES

Other Allied Columns Surround City of Aachen

By International News Service
In the Siegfried Line, Germany, Sept. 16—Several thousand Germans inside a broad wedge driven ten miles through the Westwall by American forces about Trier today are reaping a grim "Hitler harvest" as Allied armies moved in for the Nazi kill.

Smoking villages, dead livestock and foreign military occupation have become the sudden lot of frontier inhabitants.

There is misery and devastation identical to that visited upon millions by Hitler in other lands of Europe.

In time to come, millions of Herrerfolk will be equally as badly off. Our guns, tanks and infantry are on a non-stop shooting, slashing and punching spree in a grand bid to smash Hitler and force a German capitulation. There are no punches pulled. It is a case of kill and destroy.

This is Hitler's Reich, cradle of all the misery of the current war and of the Gestapo which terrorized Europe. Now it is knowing war to the hilt and wherever a single shot is fired against us, as inside this gutted village, we turn loose every available gun.

Any place in Germany where a sniper's shot whistles our troops go in and let incendiary grenades fly. We are rightly applying the torch to whole villages to scorch the German earth when necessary to finish the war as quickly as it can be ended.

American armored and infantry forces have broken through the Siegfried line and are racing toward Cologne on the Rhine only 29 miles away as consolidated Allied forces closed in on Germany on a flaming 500-mile front from Switzerland to the English Channel.

Richard Tregaskis, International News Service correspondent with Lieut. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' First Army sent a dispatch from the front lines saying that the Yanks, driving more than 12 miles into the Reich, had broken through the second belt of the Siegfried line.

He added, significantly, that no further line of defenses in the vaunted West Wall were known to exist in that region.

Meanwhile other Yank columns who have surrounded the German city of Aachen from the west, north and south, by-passed that important city and engulfed at least a

U. S. MARINES HEW 2-MILE BEACHHEAD AT PELELIU

Aboard U. S. Flagship Off Palau—Veteran U. S. Marines hewed a two-mile beachhead along the shore of Peleliu in the Palau islands today (Friday) in a vicious battle with a strong Jap garrison for this spring-board to the Philippines. The Marines were forced to fight for every inch of ground despite the most violent pre-invasion bombardment perhaps ever seen. The Marines repulsed two tank-paced enemy counter-attacks and an infantry charge before fighting slackened at nightfall.

American casualties were described as surprisingly light. By mid-afternoon the Yanks had flanked the airport on two sides and driven straight across the island below the field to cut off part of the Jap garrison on the southern tip.

It is quite possible that the Japs may launch a counter-invasion as they have an estimated 30,000 other troops in the remaining islands of the Palau group. Massed American surface and air fleets, however, are expected to be able and eager to cope with any such drive when it comes.

Report Von Rundstedt Back in Command

U. S. Third Army Headquarters—Field Marshal Karl Rudolf Gerd Von Rundstedt, dean of German marshals who had been under suspicion in connection with the recent attempt to assassinate Hitler, today was reported back in supreme command of the Wehrmacht in the west. The report indicated that Hitler, in a desperate effort to solidify the defense of the German Army, has "forgotten" the rumored implication of Von Rundstedt in the plot and the ill feelings aroused by the ensuing purge. A stiffening German resistance along the Moselle sector became noticeable yesterday. The Nazis near Pont a Mousson launched one of their hardest counter-attacks. They were beaten back, although they recaptured one small village in their drive.

For the first time since the battle of the Moselle began, the Germans also uncorked massed armor laid by Lieut. Gen. Patton's men some miles to the east. Five hundred of the enemy were killed and 900 taken prisoner. East of the Moselle and in the "junction territory" between the 3rd and 7th Armies, both units are mopping up.

MacARTHUR POURS MEN ON MOROTAI ISLAND

RAINS ARRIVE TOO LATE TO AID CROPS

Wells and Streams Will Have Supplies Greatly Replenished However

CORN YIELD LOW

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 16—The heavy rains of Tuesday, Wednesday and yesterday arrived too late to be of any help to Bucks County crops, states William H. Wilson, assistant county farm agent.

If the rains had arrived four to six weeks earlier there would have been better crop production, it is said.

The water supplies in creeks and wells will be greatly replenished, however, it is said.

Because of the drought, which extended over a period of many weeks, according to Mr. Wilson, the

Bucks County Firm To Get Third White Star

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 16—For the fourth time—a record that is outstanding in the industry in the United States—the War Department has honored the employees of William F. Fretz & Son, operating plants here and at Pipersville and Bedminster, for outstanding achievement in producing materials for the Armed Forces.

This means that a third White Star will be added to their Army-Navy Production Award Flag. The company manufactures clothing in peace times, and since the war started, has been engaged in the manufacture of uniforms for the Army and Navy.

The 69-year-old firm continues operations on War Department contracts through both the U. S. Army and the U. S. Navy, with a record most outstanding in every respect, with all production of equipment for the Armed Forces being delivered according to schedule or anticipated.

In acknowledgment of this latest commendation received by the Bucks county firm, William F. Fretz, senior partner, expressed the feeling of the Fretz organization in a communication to Under Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson, Washington, D. C.

In the communication Mr. Fretz pledged for each and every man and woman in the Fretz organization, "continued determination to equal or surpass previous achievements in the production of materials for the Armed Forces."

The Fretz firm, in addition to the usual tribute from Under Secretary of War Patterson, received a special letter from Colonel Thomas T. Jones, head procurement officer for the Philadelphia Quartermaster, congratulating the Fretz organization upon the excellent production record.

By FRANK R. KENT

(Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

The Hillman Program
Washington, Sept. 14. WITH great indignation, Chairman Hannegan of the Democratic National Committee denies that at Chicago, where Mr. Roosevelt stopped on his "non-political" tour of inspection last June, the President told him to "clear everything through Sidney," meaning Mr. Hillman, chairman of the CIO Political Action Committee.

MR. HANNEGAN may be telling the truth about this, though there are many who regard his denial as one of sheer political expediency. Representative Clare Luce, of Connecticut, showed how much she believed it on Tuesday when, having gained unanimous consent for a ten-second speech, she made the whole House laugh by shouting, "Mr. Speaker, clear everything through Sidney." Certainly, failure of Mr. Hannegan to enter a denial would have gone a long way toward establishing the contention that Mr. Hillman is the real manager of the fourth-term campaign; that his relations with Mr. Roosevelt are closer than anyone else's; that the Democratic committee chairman, Mr. Hannegan, is playing a secondary role in this campaign—all of which would be highly embarrassing to the fourth-term managers from Mr. Roosevelt down. The fact is that this "clear everything" phrase is far more than a wise-crack. It is an exceedingly effective way of calling attention to a really menacing situation.

LETTERS TO AN AMERICAN FAMILY

No. X
(Doylestown Intelligencer, September 16th)

Dear John and Mary Citizen:—

Communism and Fascism both seek the overthrow of democratic institutions and the establishment of dictatorships.

Fascism is a military government dominated by a partnership of army and labor leaders. The simplest protection against it is through the American principle of elected civil authorities—Congress and the President—being kept superior to the military.

Communism is an economic revolution, the way for which is paved by the successive weakening of all public control over government—legislative, judiciary, and freedom of elections.

There is little protection against Communism except for the executive power of the nation to be dedicated to strengthening, not weakening, Constitutional government.

Perhaps you do not fully understand what I mean when I speak of economic revolution.

I mean something similar to the inflation and the financial collapse which Germany went through, and which substituted State-Socialism under Hitler for the relatively free government the German people had previously enjoyed.

The goal can be reached by several routes: the increase of national debt beyond the ability to repay, the increase of taxes to the point where ownership of property becomes not a privilege but a burden, seizure by the government of private and industrial facilities, expansion of currency, or outright national bankruptcy.

Despite the fact that President Roosevelt was elected on a pledge to reduce Federal expenditures 25 per cent, he plunged into borrowing from the start, and will finish his third term having spent several times more money, the bulk of it borrowed, than all preceding American presidents together.

His policy of spending in the present generation moneys obtained by borrowing against future generations cannot be attributed to the war.

It began before the war. Long before hostilities, long before even the Rearmament program, he had raised the national debt to a staggering total, much the largest in our history, and of a size gravely disturbing to believers in sound finances. Moreover, he had announced no plan for reduction or repayment.

A great deal of the present national debt is in the form of War Bonds. I know the plans you two are making for the use of this money after the war, and throughout America millions of other families are making similar plans.

But, except under the preposterous scheme of still more borrowings, these evidences which you hold of the national debt can be repaid only out of future earnings of the American people.

Any expedient of juggling national funds to escape

BUCKS S. S. ASSN. NAMES OFFICERS

Linford D. Gross Re-Elected President of County Association

DELEGATES NAMED

FOREST GROVE, Sept. 16—Thirty-eight schools of all of the seven districts of the Bucks County Sabbath School Association were represented Saturday at the 78th annual convention of the county association in the Forestville Presbyterian Church, here.

The theme of the convention, which was in charge of the president, Linford D. Gross, Blooming Glen, was "The Sunday school in the light of Christ's message of salvation," and during the three sessions three informal addresses were given.

About 65 persons attended the afternoon session, and in the evening the attendance was increased to 200, and at that time a short talk on the subject, "Music in the Sunday School," was given by the Rev. I. L. Clark, Bristol. Sixty persons were served supper. Special music was also rendered during the supper hour.

The afternoon session was devoted largely to the transaction of business, which included the election of officers. The association decided to continue its program of advertising in the newspapers and to expand it to the upper and lower ends of the county. It decided also to make an appropriation of $300 to the State Sabbath School Association.

Officers were elected as follows: President, Linford D. Gross, Blooming Glen; vice-presidents, R. Randolph Fursel, Mechanicsville, and Rev. Edgar T. Chandler, New Britain; corresponding secretary, Mrs. William W. Cope, Quakertown; recording secretary, Walter N. Grass, Edison; treasurer, Clarence L. Detweiler, Hatboro, R. D.; departmental superintendents, children, Mrs. Anna Spencer, Doylestown; R. D. 1, young people, Rev. I. L. Clark, Bristol; adult, Mrs. H. J. Berger, Doylestown.

DEFENDANT GETS ANOTHER CHANCE TO MAKE GOOD

IS PUT ON PROBATION

Other Cases Are Heard At Session of The Court

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 16—All cases at the session of miscellaneous court were disposed of this week which were listed for that court. Jury trials for the September term of criminal court will begin Monday.

Frank Kentopp, of Doylestown, pleaded guilty to a charge of being a nuisance.

The Court in pronouncing sentence told the defendant he would take him at his word this time and give him one more chance on the promise that he will "stop drinking" intoxicating liquor.

Judge Boyer suspended sentence and placed Kentopp on probation for one year, in charge of Probation Officer Horace E. Gwinner.

The defendant, Officer Clifford Beck, of Doylestown, testified, has been arrested by him alone seventeen times. He has been arrested many more times than that, records show.

Kentopp's employer, Joseph Barnes, of Warrington, informed the Court that Kentopp was an excellent worker when sober. He was described as a mechanic who could not be replaced at this time.

Judge Boyer issued a warning not only to Kentopp whom he told would be brought into court to serve a year the first time he was found drinking but to hotel and tavern owners too.

The Court authorized the police to notify every licensee in Doylestown, Warrington and Willow Grove, that if they are caught selling intoxicating liquor—and that includes beer—to Kentopp, that they will be brought into Court

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 16—"Wild Animals I Have Known" was the subject upon which John Tevan, executive secretary of the New York Zoological Society, spoke to members of the Doylestown Nature Club at "Aldie," the home of Mrs. William R. Mercer here.

Introduced by his sister-in-law, Mrs. Frank Damrosch, Mr. Tevan gave an account of his trip to China to bring two large pandas to this country.

Mr. Tevan told of the trip, which was taken during the summer and fall of 1941 to western China, the home of the pandas.

Motion pictures of the long journey home were shown. The party was besieged by crowds of interested people at Chungking, from which place a flight was made to Hongkong, and from there to Manila, where Mr. Tevan and his party were confronted with the difficulties of the tropical climate and procuring the proper variety of bamboo, the main diet of the pandas.

Finally the party sailed from Manila on Nov. 25, 1941, for the long journey across the Pacific. Upon arrival on the West Coast the pandas were placed in a private baggage car and taken to New York.

WHAT OUR BOYS ARE DOING TO WIN THE WAR

AN AIR SERVICE COMMAND STATION IN ENGLAND, Sept. 16—Cpl. Claude Cambluet, the son of Alex. Cambluet, of 1908 Wood street, Bristol, Pa., recently completed an orientation course designed to bridge the gap between training in the States and combat soldiering against the enemy in France.

At this Air Service Command Station Cpl. Claude Cambluet attended a series of lectures given by battle-wise veterans which included instructions on chemical warfare defense and pertinent tips on staying healthy in a combat theatre.

His next station will be one from which America's fighting planes cover our liberation of Occupied Europe.

Before entering the Army Air Forces, he was employed as a riveter and assembly man by the Division of Kaiser Cargo Co., Bristol, Pa.

Congress to Act Quickly to Sell War Surplus Goods

Washington—Senate and House conferees today forecast quick action by Congress next week on their compromise bill to set up the machinery for selling 100 billion dollars' worth of surplus war goods. The conferees announced they had approved final drafts of the rewritten measure—after making a last-day switch to a three-member board as the top authority for the program. The House will get the bill Monday. The Senate has recessed until Tuesday.

GERMANS CANNOT TAKE IT

In these times of freely circulating money, it is interesting to read that savings by individuals between the end of 1939 and June 1, 1944, amounted to $100,000,000, one-half of which was accumulated during the last 18 months, according to Commerce Department estimates. Savings during the first half of 1944 were at an annual rate of $35,000,000,000, which if continued would bring the nation's total thrift account to considerably more than $115,000,000,000 by the end of 1944.

This shows that savings definitely are on the increase and reflects the extent to which the popular thrift impulse has been able to survive the ever-increasing cost of living. Apparently, most people are making more money nowadays than they ever did in their lives. There do not appear to be any appreciable indications that they have slowed up their spending, with the demand for consumer goods continuing far in excess of the supply.

The increased savings trend may be due to the fact that more and more persons are looking ahead to the post-war reconstruction period with its many opportunities for investment not only in standard home equipment items but in business opportunities. Thus many may be planning to go into business for themselves.

Whatever the uncertainty of the times ahead, the certainty that there will be plenty of places for the use of money is self-evident. If the nation has a total thrift account of $115,000,000,000 by the end of 1944, it will be that much to the good in the matter of economic security.

BILLIONS IN SAVINGS

That the end of the European war is now only a matter of a few weeks seems fairly certain. Catastrophe after catastrophe has hit the Germans on all fronts and now there are reports of spreading riots inside the Reich. The Germans cannot take it.

They were riding high when their goose-stepping armies marched into Poland and Czechoslovakia. They were arrogant and blandly calm when their armies were murdering British children at Coventry. But when the Allied air raids hit their peak, there was only grim silence. Now, Allied troops have pushed their way onto German soil.

And what happens? Stockholm reports that riots have broken out in "several" German cities; and that crowds of women, soldiers and workers marched through streets shouting "Down with Hitler! We want peace!"

A Swedish paper reveals that clashes have occurred between members of the private Hitlerite army, the SS troops, and German civilians, the SS units firing into crowds and "killing or wounding many."

Another Stockholm paper reports that the German garrison of Doberitz near Berlin "mutinied" during the exhibition of a film showing the execution of Field Marshal Erwin von Witzleben in the purge following the July 20 German army plot and that "shooting occurred among the anti-Nazi officers."

built and laid out according to Penn's own instructions.

Subsequently falling into ruins, "Pennsbury" remained little more than a name until the State of Pennsylvania acquired the property and in 1938, after years of careful research, reconstructed the manor as a memorial to the proprietor and founder of the Commonwealth.

As was the case with the buried cities of Jamestown in Virginia and St. Mary's in Maryland, the earth was forced literally to give up its secrets so that the "Lost Capital" of Pennsylvania might rise from the dust.

Soroptimists Donate Sums To Scouts and Hospital

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 16.—At the first meeting after the Summer vacation period, the Soroptimist Club of Bucks county voted contributions of $5 to the Boy Scouts and $20 to the Emergency Hospital, here. Twenty members, almost the total membership of the club, were present at the meeting at the Cross Keys Inn this week.

Twenty-five of the envelopes addressed to men and women in the armed services from this area and issued by the servicemen's committee of the Doylestown Community Council will be taken by the club. The envelopes are addressed and stamped and the holder is expected to write a letter or put some news or magazine clipping in them and mail them.

Mrs. Pearl H. Smith was elected the delegate and Miss Katherine Keane the alternate, to represent the club for the next two years at the conferences of the North Atlantic region of Soroptimist clubs.

The Soroptimist club of Tiffin, Ohio, is having an autumn "convention" in the form of a handkerchief bazaar with the delegates from each club in the country to be represented by handkerchiefs. Mrs. Martha S. Woolley was appointed to take charge of sending the "delegates" from the club.

Centopp, who was honorably discharged from the U. S. Army, had an excellent service record.

The defendant assured Judge Boyer that he could "straighten himself out," and stop drinking.

Richard Julian James, Jr., of Tidoum road, Ottsville, pleaded guilty to a charge of operating a motor vehicle after his operating privilege had been suspended and revoked. He was fined $10 and costs, and a prison sentence of 30 days, dated from August 31, was imposed.

George Stacy, of Lacey Park, Rollins E. Hetzel and Edward Lee, both of Warmminster, pleaded guilty to the larceny of an automobile owned by Robert Abrams, an extra defender at a Johnsville taproom that has since been closed by the State Liquor Control Board. The theft was on August 26.

The stolen car was wrecked and damaged to the extent of $236.02. The defendants had spent six hours in the Johnsville tap room, commonly known as "The Blood Pit."

Stacy, a married man with three children, told Judge Boyer that he spent "about $300 a year on drinking."

None of the defendants have ever been in trouble before.

Judge Boyer sentenced Stacy, 24, to pay one-third of the costs and serve 6 to 23 months in the Bucks County Prison. Hetzel, 20, was sentenced to pay one-third of the costs and serve 3 to 23 months in the Bucks County Prison. Lee, 19, was sentenced to pay one-third of the costs and to serve 11 to 23 months in the County Prison.

These sentences are to begin from the date of commitment, August 29.

Judge Boyer advised the defendants that if the damages to the wrecked car are settled he would consider a parole for Hetzel at the end of one month, for Stacy at the end of two months, and for Lee at the end of five months.

this fact merely puts the American financial program on a par with the Ponzi scheme, that of paying one man's interest out of the next man's investment.

The American public has much more staked on the War Bonds than you may realize. I happen to know that you have a mortgage on your home. The bank which holds that mortgage has the bulk of its assets in War Bonds—should something happen to freeze those War Bonds, the bank might have little choice but to foreclose.

The same is true of virtually all other forms of credit and investment which you may be using.

You have, for example, bank accounts and insurance. The assets and resources which should make your money available to you when you want it again are largely in War Bonds.

This is no criticism of War Bonds as an investment. They are undoubtedly the best place available to put your money. But the New Deal has put all our financial eggs in one basket—it is up to the American people to watch that basket!

Perhaps these considerations will make clearer to you just what is implied by the term, economic revolution, and the extent to which the American people would suffer if the Communists, in power through a Fourth Term, decide to emulate Hitler in Germany—"liquidate" private property.

No Americans, and especially that great number of them who own homes, farms, property and investments, can afford to blind themselves to such a possibility.

They have within their power to make such a development impossible—by the ousting of the New Deal and the election of Governor Dewey.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

place nomination undoubtedly was "cleared through Sidney." So, also was the candidacy of ex-Justice James F. Byrnes. Mr. Hillman approved the first, but turned down the second. And now Mr. Hillman's activities, plans and publicity are all upon a considerably larger scale than those of Mr. Hannegan's committee. Also there is more energy and enthusiasm about the Hillman committee's campaign than about that of the Hannegan committee.

TO SUCH an extent is this so that it is reasonable to say that if everything important about the fourth-term fight is not "cleared through Sidney" it should be and that if Mr. Hannegan is not working in the closest possible touch with Mr. Hillman he is making quite a mistake. For, it is Mr. Hillman who is making the fight. There is no mistake about that. If any evidence of this is needed, it can be gained from the September 8 "news releases" of the Hillman committee sent out from its national headquarters and marked "For Labor Press Exclusively." These "news releases" of this date are very voluminous and, though they are primarily designed to stimulate the labor press to help in the great drive for a dollar contribution from every "CIO member and friend," they cover the whole field and are by no means confined to labor questions.

FOR EXAMPLE, this interesting statement is made in the first release: "The CIO Political Action Committee plans to print and distribute not less than 50,000,000 pieces of literature dealing with the issues of the national political campaign. Each piece is designed as a weapon in the hands of American workers and their friends. Besides the 50,000,000 pieces of literature, CIO-PAC intends to buy radio time, newspaper space in big towns and small, rent billboards, distribute posters, use sound trucks and the whole paraphernalia of a modern political campaign. The stakes are the largest in American labor history and labor intends to do its best to win its fight."

THE NATIONAL Committee's campaign is upon no such scale as that. For one thing, 50,000,000 pieces of literature is an unheard of campaign quantity. It will take a very large sum indeed to print, mail and distribute. The other activities outlined in the "news releases" are likewise expensive. Nothing is said here of the cost of the registration drive which the CIO-PAC is making, but no one can consider the program as thus outlined, without appreciating that it will take more money to carry out than the Democratic committee will be able to collect, or than Mr. Hillman concedes he will have. That Mr. Hillman knows the program will require an immense amount is evidenced by the kind of appeal the labor press is directed in these "news releases" to make.

IT IS TOLD, for instance, to point out to the "worker" that his dollars are to match those of the du Ponts, the Sloans and the Rockefellers. No mention, of course, is made of the Biddles, the Morgenthaus, the Davies, the Harrimans and other rich and liberal contributors to the Roosevelt campaign funds. One would think that these were all poor boys who never had been asked to "come through." The labor press is also directed to dwell upon the idea that the fruits of a Dewey victory will be unemployment, slums and apple stands. The suggestion is made that by stressing this idea the dollars "will be donated quickly." There are, of course, a good many other instructions to the labor press in these exclusive releases, but enough has been given to show the scope, the energy and the cost of the CIO-PAC campaign.

IT EXCEEDS that of the National Committee on all accounts. Its program overshadows that of the National Committee and its own account of its activities justifies the statement that Mr. Hillman has really taken over the fourth-term fight and made it his own. Under the circumstances, if things are not being cleared through him, then Mr. Hillman is not getting what he is entitled to. And his record shows that he has been pretty successful in getting, at least, that.

Rains Arrive Too Late To Aid Crops

yield of corn this season will be about 50 percent normal.

Many acres of corn stopped growing during the latter part of last month, and a large number of the farmers cut the corn six or eight weeks earlier than usual and placed it in silos.

Apples and peaches also suffered as a result of the drought. Orchardists throughout the country found the apples and peaches greatly reduced in size, and farmers engaged in growing tomatoes on an extensive scale found their yield greatly reduced.

Truckers in the lower part of the county also found the snap bean yield greatly reduced as a result of the drought.

However, said Mr. Wilson, the rain will be of some benefit because it will enable the farmers to prepare the soil for the sowing of wheat and barley later in the season. Prior to the rain this week the soil was so dry that farmers were also unable to plow.

town; missionary, Rev. Wheeler Boggess, Doylestown; temperance, Mrs. Elsie Nixon, Newtown; leadership training, Elmer E. P. Statler, Ivyland; vacation and week-day Bible schools, Miss Dorothy Simons, Doylestown; publicity, Isaac R. Crork, Jr., Quakertown, and nominating committee, David M. Rau, Walter K. Young and Ralph Roberts.

The officers were installed at the evening session by Raymond Hedrick, Telford, a former president of the association.

Linford D. Gross and Walter N. Grass were appointed to represent the county association at the 82nd annual convention of the State Sabbath School Association in Reading on October 10, 11, 12 and 13.

One of the speakers was Rev. James Stanton Bair, superintendent of the young people's department of the State Sabbath School Association, who, speaking of the convention theme, said: "We get out of the Sunday school what we put into it. The teacher must elevate himself to a high position, and it should be his duty to save the lost, those who have never found Christ and those who have neglected their religious training."

At the close of his address he conducted a brief forum.

Rev. Guy Every, Morrisville, who had charge of devotions at the opening of the evening session, also gave a short talk. He commented upon the need of the individual in knowing where he is going and how he is going to get there. Salvation, he said, is sure knowledge for those who profess their faith and confess their sins.

The main address of the evening was by Donald V. Hock, an attorney from Allentown, who spoke of the young people in the Sunday school. "Maturity," said Mr. Hock, "brings a closer kinship to God. We must, not like Rip Van Winkle, sleep away the best years of our life and permit our children to miss the foundations of democracy by reaching the individual through the Sunday school. The individual in turn must reach other individuals."
